

“It is each individual’s ultimate responsibility
To make himself the best specimen of mankind possible.” (Socrates)

Magic Means to Manage a Marriage

When their affection grows so strong
That the lovers feel they belong
Together in a union of committment and responsibility
As the founders of a healthy and happy family,
Then their love has turned into an inner law
Held holy as Mother Nature’s blessed call.
Their marriage is sanctified and supported by the Lord
And protected by society here and abroad.

When the spouses’ maturity grows so strong
That they also get along
Together with mutual respect and spiritual harmony
As role models in a healthy and happy family,
Then their wisdom has turned into principles
Wisely observed as daily rituals
And keenly perceived as the inner light
Of the Lord’s guidance that is always right.

When husband and wife communicate with each other
While listening to understand the own self and the other
When they balance their sense of unity
With the freedom for each to develop the own self and individuality
When they forge agreements together
While focusing on the problems and their best solution as their measure,
Then they are creating a haven of happiness
Where each moment speaks for their mutual respect and pleasantness.

Now that you have founded your own family,
How challenging the forging of its well-functioning can be.
Since nobody ever falls as perfect from the sky,
From good examples we gain the knowledge as to why
Regardless of background many married couples succeeded.
For practicing such wisdom, much self-education is needed,
Like strengthening the good character and sense of self-esteem,
And observing the virtues, all of which will redeem
The mind from doubts about the accomplishment.
As such you'll enjoy each other's companionship and your own self-development.
May you follow the Lord's guidance as a religious rite
To maintain your marriage through the inner light.
