

You Are the Stillness by Bill Mize

You are the Stillness, moving at my center
Eternal Spring, who bubbles at my core
You are the Spring who banishes my Winter
The only One whom I will e'er adore...
You are the Sunshine, greeting me with Morning
Eternal Light, who warms my World, my way
You are the Silver Stream of all my Yearning
Who rushes through my evergreening Day
You are the Music, keening to my Spirit
And Lullaby, who sings my Heart to sleep
You are the Grace who loves beyond all Merit
I kneel before Thee, pray my Soul to keep
And in the Stillness with the Holy Voice
You call my Soul by name, and I rejoice.
